may look for artistic designs for cranial ornamentation.

More tangible an evidence of the direction in which we are going is found in the status of the wisdom tooth. Back in the dim period when what is now man had his sole raiment always growing on him and was able to flick a fly off his ear with his tail and a careless grace, he also needed a heavy set of grinders in his business of life for extracting the marrow from the bones of departed friends and others.

But we have molted, and we have sat so much on the caudal instrument—which must have been of such service in the handling of infants, and of such embarrassment in street fights—that our suffix is gone, and it is gravely doubtful if the loss was a gain. And the innovation of the ax, which evolved into the table knife, resulted in the duty of human grinders being partly modified; with the outcome that only about 42 per cent. of civilized adults now cut the wisdom teeth, which were formerly the most powerful and important of all the molars.

C. BAILEY.

THE ALLEGED HUMORISTS.

There is a melancholy coincidence in the fact that this is the age of scientific cookery and the age of dyspepsia.—Boston Courier.

"Tell me, is your wife curious?" "She? I really believe she came into the world only out of pure curiosity."—Fliegende Blätter.

Miss Lovelorn—"Would you believe De Garry made me blush last night?" Miss Caustic—"No, I wouldn't."—New York Sun.

"Those Thompsons are a bad lot. Three out of the four ought to be in the penitentiary." "What of the fourth?" "He's there."—Time.

Dasher—"I hope you don't object to my smoking." Rev. Mr. Mylde—"Not in the least, if you don't object to my being sick."—Pick-me-up.

Yes, a young woman possessed of a million certainly has a good figure, and the young man who lives on Washington Square has a pleasing address.—Harper's Bazaar.

Susan B. Anthony greatly admires Mrs. Potter's Cleopatra. Miss Anthony knew the original Cleopatra when her brother Marc was attentive to the Egyptian Queen.—World.

An echo from the hall: Masker—"Have you got a knife about you, waiter?" My friend and I came here as the Siamese Twins, but he's been overdoing it a little, and I want to cut the rope!—Puck.

Mrs. Lennox Hill Jr.—I'm so glad you've come, Lennox. Christina, the nurse-girl, left this morning, and, as she's taught little Beekman nothing but Swedish, I can't find out what he wants!—Puck.

The Miss Browns—Oh, so glad to see you, Mary! But we've such dreadful colds, we can't kiss you, dear, we can only shake hands! Fair visitor—Oh, dear, how sad. I hope you haven't got a cold, Mr. Brown!—Punch.

Hatters assert that the average American head is considerably smaller than it was fifty years ago. This is strange, considering that the average American head is often so much larger to-day than it was last night.—Philadelphia Press.

"Pshaw!" said a Sixteenth street lady to her husband, who had been criticizing her attire, "what does a man know about a woman's clothes, anyway?" "He knows the price, my dear," he replied, gently, and she retired.—Washington Critic.

Mrs. de Culture—Horror! Going to marry that young Mr. Hayseed? Are you crazy? He eats pie with a knife. Miss de Culture—I know it, ma, but I love him. "You'll die of disgust." "No, I won't. I'll never have pie."—Philadelphia Record.

"Why are you shoveling that snow on to the clean sidewalk?" "Faith, sor, Oi contracted wid th' woman in th' house for ter clean off th' sidewalk for tin cints, an' he had, when Oi finished she wouldn't pay me; an' be gorra, back goes her blothy snow."—Life.

Old Mr. Wearie—Yes, I know I'm old, and blind, and lame, and poor, and forgotten, but I never cease to thank the Lord for one thing, parson. Parson—What is that, my friend. Old Mr. Wearie—That I'm not a retired President.—Burlington Free Press.

Dude (entering Delmonico's, to waiter; the dude carries a heavy stick, with an enormous horse's head)—Hat, waiter! Waiter—Yes, sir. Dude—Coat, waiter! Waiter—Yes, sir. Dude—Cane, waiter! Waiter—Yes, sir. Have it blanketed, sir?—Life.

Brown (producing his scrap-book and pointing with pride to one of his early effusions)—There, read that! I wrote that when I was only twelve years old! Fogg (after reading)—Can it be possible, Brown, that you were so old as twelve when you wrote this?—Boston Transcript.

Mistress—Marie, I saw you kissing a young man at the kitchen door this morning. I want you to understand that I will not stand that sort of thing at all. Marie—Pardon me, madam; I did not know the young man was a friend of yours. It shall not occur again.—Terr Haute Express.

Aim at the Drake

And you are bound to hit some of the ducks. This is precisely the same with

Wampole's
Tasteless
Preparation

OF

Cod Liver Oil.

It aims to cure Consumption,
Hits the Mark, too, and it
most effectually breaks up Colds,
Coughs, Hoarseness and all Throat and Lung troubles that cause this disease.

It is natural logic to conclude that if WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION OF COD LIVER OIL has power to prevent Consumption, it surely is able to cure these lesser emergencies.

This vigor-making, fat producing preparation is Absolutely Tasteless, in so far as Cod Liver Oil is concerned. All you notice is a delightful flavor of Wild Cherry and Anise.

But the purest Norwegian Cod Liver Oil is there all the same. It is a great blood enricher. Best of all it is a natural food that in its stomachic effects, actually assists its own assimilation.

In Pulmonary or Bronchial troubles it is unequalled. No one doubts the value of Cod Liver Oil, but not every one is able to take it.

WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION

removes the nauseous objection
and actually makes Cod Liver Oil palatable.

In making up an order, see that it includes a subscription for yourself and for one or more relatives or friends abroad. "THE HAWAIIAN"
the oldest paper published in the Pacific, Rev.
S. E. Bishop, Editor; published monthly, at $2 per annum, devoted to the religious and educational interests of these islands, as also a recorder of political and other current events.
Sample copies mailed to any address. A limited number of advertisements inserted at reasonable rates.

The Hawaiian Annual now in its Nineteenth year, and acknowledged not only as the best authority on all information pertaining to the islands that residents should know and strangers invariably ask, but the only reference book of Hawaiian statistics, and annual recorder of current and reminiscent events. There are homes probably in this land in which it is unknown, except by name, and there are numerous friends abroad to whom this publication would afford untold satisfaction for the fund of reliable information it imparts in its one hundred and fifty or more pages, with nothing of the "Guide Book" gush about it. Price per copy to any address in these islands, 75 cents; or mailed to any address in the Postal Union for 85 cents each.

And we propose to stay there!

We don't keep Fischer Ranges, Hendry Breakers, wind mills or things of that sort, you know. But when you talk Pictures,
Picture Framing, Artists'
materials, Window cornices, Hat racks, Easels or any thing else in our line, you will find us on top spinning along with the times.

If you have a photo
of a deceased friend or relative that you would like to have enlarged, try
one of our $10 portraits which we guarantee to suit or ask no pay.
